"His mercies are new every morning... Great is his faithfulness!"

Greetings from the USA. What a tremendous time we have had this past month celebrating God's goodness and visiting friends, family and supporting churches. The day after Wilson arrived in IL we celebrated Julie's graduation from St. Francis School of Nursing. It was a long haul and she studied very hard and we praise God for this tremendous victory in her life.

Wilson and I want to thank each for your love and prayers. Although this month has been cloudy, rainy, very cold (for us at least) and windy, God blessed us all with the absolutely most perfect day to celebrate the beginning of Julie and Brandon's life together. We KNOW you were praying and God answered. There was supposed to be severe thunder storms, high winds and cold weather that day. The night before, we had the rehearsal in a historical building at the park where the reception was to be held because they were still forecasting 80% rain for the following day. Julie was looking at weather updates every day until the 21st and then every hour. God sent the most beautiful weather (70's) and the most beautiful day (a delightful blend of sunshine and shade from the surrounding trees). As I was walking over to the chairs where the ceremony was to take place someone whispered in my ear... "Did you know the world is supposed to end today?" That was the first *time either of us ever heard of that. I said, "Say again?!" Then they told us the world was supposed to end at 6:00 pm. I did some quick calculating and realized that Julie and Brandon would be married by then since the ceremony was from 5:00-6:00 and decided we could just go ahead and have the reception in heaven! That would have been fine with all of us!! It was a God honoring day and we praise Him for Julie and Brandon. We want to thank you from the bottom of our hearts for joining us on this special day and upholding us all through your prayers. It was awesome to see our kids again. Jessica came up from Branson, MO with her boyfriend Ben, Joshua and Leighann came up from Orlando, FL and the wedding was held in IL. We had a wonderful time touching base with each one and visiting with family and friends. Right after the wedding we went to WI for a little over a week to visit a few of our supporting churches, family and several of our personal supporters. It was so awesome to see each one and have a time of sharing and fellowship. The mission team from one church who was just recently ministering together with us in Brazil sponsored a cookout with the Kannenbergs. Some family was there and friends from other churches as well. It was tremendous for us all to hear the team sharing from their perspective about the ministries we are a part of in Brazil. Dennis Sohn from Operation Amazon (who we also partner with) gave a DVD presentation and shared about the water filter ministry and we also had the privilege of sharing what God is doing in the Amazon through your prayers and support.

Our time here in the USA is short (6 weeks) and we would love to be able to see all of you. Some of you whom we have called are probably already on vacation and we are sorry we missed you. God blessed us abundantly with a wonderful car while we are here and places to stay. We are so glad that we were able to stay with Julie in her apartment while we were making the final preparations for the wedding. In just a little over a week we will be heading to TN to visit another supporter and have a family reunion (middle of June). After 3-4 years we are really looking forward to touching base with our whole family and relatives and spending more time with Jessica, Joshua and Leighann. Since Julie will have her state boards right in the middle of the reunion and they both have new jobs at the hospital, they will not be able to attend. Our family time together will end with a bang. My brother Tom's youngest son Ben will be married to Jessica Hayes the last day of our reunion! After the reunion we will be blessed to have our daughter Jessica with us for a while and we will be heading back to IL with her.

Once again we want to thank you for your love and friendship, your warm welcome where ever we go and your faithful prayers and support. If you wish to contact us while we are here you can reach us at (414) 573-3366. God bless you and give you a "Son" - filled summer!

*Love and Hugs from us to you,
